Re: Scientific Chemical Processing Corp/
Carlstadt, New Jersey Site

Dear Janet:

Enclosed please find pictures of the tank and drums remaining on the above captioned site. It is my understanding that the tank as well as perhaps the drums contain PCB contaminated liquids. As you can see, the tank and drums are beginning to deteriorate. I am informed that there is some liquid in the dumpster and, of course, I am concerned that this may indicate a leak in the tank. I would request that the Agency immediately perform a detailed inspection of the tank and drums and ensure that Inmar takes such efforts within the next few days as may meet with the Agency's approval to preserve the integrity of both the tank and the drums.

Yours very truly,

William L. Warren
